CATTLEMEN'S CLINICS

Livestock Production and Natural Resource Management

UC CE University of California Cooperative Extension

Friday, January 19, 2018
Loyalton Social Hall
105 Beckwith St.- Loyalton, CA

Saturday, January 20, 2018
Feather River College
Golden Eagle Ave. - Quincy, CA

AGENDA

11:30 - 12:30 Lunch and Registration

12:30 Welcome
Tracy Schohr, Plumas-Sierra-Butte Counties Livestock and Natural Resources Advisor, UCCE

1:00 Best Management Practices at the Ranch to Promote Water Quality
Ken Tate, Ph.D., University of California, Davis

1:30 Ranching with Predators: Tools and Impacts
Leslie Roche, Ph.D., University of California, Davis
Dan Macon, UCCE, Livestock and Natural Resources Advisor
Placer-Nevada-Yuba-Sutter Counties

2:00 Reporting Predation Locally – Tracy Schohr

2:15 Break

2:45 Beef Cattle Marketing: Are Your Investments Paying Off?
Tina Saitone, Ph.D., UCCE Specialist and UC Davis Lecturer

3:15 A Practical Approach to Herd Health and BQA
Bret McNabb, DVM, Assistant Professor with the Livestock Herd Health and Reproduction Service, UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine

4:45 Prevention Works - New Vaccines on the Market
Shane Strickler, Regional Sales Manager, Boehringer-Ingelheim

5:00 Adjourn

$15 Registration
Includes lunch, afternoon refreshments and materials
$20 Onsite and Late Registration

Beef Quality Assurance
Certification available at event for producers

Online Registration & More Details http://ucce-plumas-sierra.ucanr.edu/

REGISTRATION FORM

Name: _____ Phone Number:_____

Address: _____

Email: _____

Loyalton, Friday, January 19, 2018 $15 x_____ = _____
Quantity Total

Quincy, Saturday, January 20, 2018 $15 x_____ = _____
Quantity Total

 Make Checks Payable to UC Regents**
Mail to UCCE - Plumas Sierra; 208 Fairground Road, Quincy, CA 95971